

Kiewit

KIEWIT BASICS

Kiewit's roots can be traced back to 1884, when two brothers took a dream, some bricks and a little bit of mortar and built the foundation for what would become one of the largest and most respected construction and engineering organizations in North America and beyond.

THE KIEWIT COMMITMENT

Kiewit's commitment to safety, quality and environmental is engrained in everything we do. It's visible in our core values, the work that we build and in our people.

- Nobody Gets Hurt: Safety comes above all else. To us, nothing is more important than the safety of the men and women on our project sites and the surrounding public.
- Right the first time: We stake our reputation on it. Kiewit has a formal quality program that enables us to build work right the first time and allows us to use continuous improvement to meet or exceed our clients' expectations.
- What we do matters. Because of this, our employees realize they have a responsibility to build our work like the corporate citizens that we are — and with the highest regard to environmental compliance. After all, we build in our own backyards as much as we do yours.

OUR CORE VALUES

People. Integrity. Excellence. Stewardship. Our strong and meaningful values have defined Kiewit's success and longevity. Kiewit's leaders and workforce continue to ensure that our values remain at the core of everything we do.

QUALITY PEOPLE

Kiewit people are defined by a willingness to take on challenges, explore new ideas and perform at their best.

- The Kiewit workforce includes 11,000 core staff and 11,000 skilled craft workers.
- Kiewit is owned by active employees, creating a level of motivation that keeps the company on top.
- Our people make Kiewit a career. The average tenure is an impressive 28 years for executives, 24 years for district managers, 16 years for project managers and 12 years for superintendents.
- Kiewit has LEED®-accredited professionals who are trained to achieve green objectives and support green designs.
